HEAT : 'The way forward is good food'

The HEAT Cookbook full of mouth watering recipes that are easily made at home.

Recipes and cooking tips from well known chefs, Guy Grossi, Luke Mangan, Andrew McConnell and Ian Curley and our own Chef Trainer Arnold Greiner fill the book.

Heart felt stories from young people whose lives have been changed forever by participating in HEAT will make this cookbook a special addition to your kitchen.

100% of profits from the cookbook sales go directly to HEAT to continue providing training skills to young people, positively shape their future and help them reach their full potential.

'Food brings people together and encourages sharing of new experiences'

HEAT (Hospitality Employment and Training) is a 14 week re-engagement program for young people who are not engaged in education or employment due to issues such as homelessness, mental health, drug and alcohol misuse.

HEAT offers an innovative program giving students accredited training qualifications in the hospitality industry and work experience with local business.

The program offers a high level of youth support, with practical training designed to lead to a new direction in employment or further study.
